

AP Psychology Practice Test Questions and Answers

1. Which part of the brain is primarily responsible for higher-order thinking and decision making?

- A) Cerebellum
- B) Prefrontal cortex
- C) Medulla oblongata
- D) Hippocampus

2. According to Piaget's theory, during which stage do children develop object permanence?

- A) Preoperational stage
- B) Concrete operational stage
- C) Sensorimotor stage
- D) Formal operational stage

3. What type of conditioning involves learning through association between a neutral stimulus and an unconditioned stimulus?

- A) Operant conditioning
- B) Classical conditioning
- C) Observational learning
- D) Insight learning

4. Which neurotransmitter is most associated with mood regulation and depression?

- A) Dopamine
- B) Acetylcholine
- C) Serotonin
- D) GABA

Answers: 1-B 2-C 3-B 4-C

For More AP Psychology Questions and Answers FREE, AP Psychology Online Prep Training, AP Psychology Exam, AP Psychology Study Guide, AP Psychology Flashcards, AP Psychology Quizzes visit:

AP Psychology Practice Test

Practice Test Geeks © All Rights Reserved