

INACE Practice Test Questions and Answers

1. What does INACE stand for in corrosion engineering?

- A) International Association of Corrosion Engineers
- B) Institute of Naval Architecture and Corrosion Engineering
- C) International Network for Advanced Corrosion Education
- D) Industrial Association of Chemical Engineers

2. Which factor most significantly affects corrosion rates in marine environments?

- A) Temperature only
- B) Salt concentration and oxygen levels
- C) Wind speed
- D) Water depth only

3. What is the primary method of cathodic protection for ship hulls?

- A) Painting only
- B) Sacrificial anodes
- C) Plastic coating
- D) Air drying

4. Which material is commonly used for sacrificial anodes in seawater?

- A) Copper
- B) Stainless steel
- C) Zinc or aluminum
- D) Plastic

Answers: 1-A 2-B 3-B 4-C

For More INACE Questions and Answers FREE, INACE Online Prep Training, INACE Exam, INACE Study Guide, INACE Flashcards, INACE Quizzes visit:

INACE Practice Test