

NBME Practice Test Questions and Answers

1. A patient presents with chest pain, shortness of breath, and elevated troponin levels. What is the most likely diagnosis?

- A) Pneumonia
- B) Myocardial infarction
- C) Gastroesophageal reflux
- D) Anxiety disorder

2. Which cranial nerve is responsible for facial muscle movement?

- A) Cranial nerve V (trigeminal)
- B) Cranial nerve VII (facial)
- C) Cranial nerve IX (glossopharyngeal)
- D) Cranial nerve X (vagus)

3. What is the mechanism of action of ACE inhibitors?

- A) Block calcium channels
- B) Inhibit angiotensin-converting enzyme
- C) Block beta-adrenergic receptors
- D) Inhibit sodium-potassium pump

4. Which laboratory value is most specific for liver function?

- A) Alkaline phosphatase
- B) AST (aspartate aminotransferase)
- C) ALT (alanine aminotransferase)
- D) Bilirubin

Answers: 1-B 2-B 3-B 4-C

For More NBME Questions and Answers FREE, NBME Online Prep Training, NBME Exam, NBME Study Guide, NBME Flashcards, NBME Quizzes visit:

NBME Practice Test